SCHOOL of LAW

The Visiting International Researcher (VIR) Program Application Form

The School of Law hosts a limited number of Visiting International Researchers each year. The program is designed for foreign academics and graduate law students, as well as legal professionals, interested in pursuing legal research and consulting with Wake Forest Law faculty.

It is important to remember that researchers are only allowed to audit courses. There will be no credit given for courses audited. This is not a degree program, rather a chance to further your current studies and expand your knowledge of U.S. Law.

Application Instructions

If you have questions regarding the application or the admissions process, please contact International Programs at +001.336.758.6116 or via e-mail at LLM@wfu.edu. All applications are reviewed once they are complete. Although we attempt to notify any candidate whose file is incomplete, it is the candidate's responsibility to ensure that all documents are submitted in a timely manner.

Demographics

Requested Terms of Enrollment: Periods of study should coincide with our academic calendar, which can be found here: <http://academics.law.wfu.edu/calendar/>. Please indicate which semester(s) you plan to be in residence.

Name: When completing the application form, please provide your full name as indicated on your passport or official document.

Birthdate: When entering your birthdate, please enter it as Month/Day/Year.

E-mail: Please provide a permanent e-mail address as this will be used for all correspondence during the application process.

English Proficiency

Applicants attending the VIR program whose native language is not English, must demonstrate English Proficiency through one of the following methods: TOEFL or IELTS score, a signed letter from an educational institution where English is the sole language attesting to the researcher's language skills, or a video conference with Admissions Officers. There will be space on your application to indicate your preference.

Required Documents

Résumé (Curriculum Vitae)

Applicants must submit a résumé or curriculum vitae outlining all relevant academic and professional achievements.

Letter of Intent

Applicants are required to submit a letter of intent that includes an explanation of the reasons for the visit, a clear research agenda, a proposed time frame for the visit, and any plans for auditing courses.

Documentation of Financial Resources

If accepted, candidates must provide documentation certifying adequate financial resources to pay for all tuition, books, and living expenses. Tuition for the VIR program is $6000 per semester in residence.

Financial documentation consists of two parts:

- Official Bank Statements: You (or your sponsor) must provide certified bank statements (or other official financial statements) indicating that you have sufficient funds to cover all tuition and living expenses.
- Sponsorship Letter(s): If you have been provided a scholarship, you must submit a copy of the sponsor's letter affirming their commitment to support you during your studies and indicating the amount of monies provided. If a parent or other family members are your sponsors, you will need to submit a letter from them specifying their relationship to you and indicating their commitment to financially support you during your education in the U.S. Included with this letter should be an official statement verifying that they have sufficient funds to provide for your full course of study and living expenses.

Application Fee

The $75 Application Fee is payable via check, money order, or via our online flywire (<https://www.flywire.com/pay/wfu>) system.

Admissions Decisions

Your application will not be reviewed until it is complete. Applications are reviewed in the order in which they are received and decisions typically take 4 to 6 weeks. If you have not received a decision in that time, please be sure to contact our office. If the committee requests any further information on your application, we will contact you via email.
